“THERE’S A REALLY GOOD RANGE OF PRODUCTS IN THE MID-PRICE BRACKET. THEY ARE ALL VERY GOOD SOLID PERFORMERS WITH WELL DESERVED REPUTATIONS,” EXPLAINED ULTIMATE FINISH. THE VALETPRO YELLOW POLY CLAY IS ALSO STRONGLY ADVISABLE ONCE YOU HAVE FINISHED WITH THE BILT-HAMBER AUTO-WASH SHAMPOO AND IT CAN STILL BE BOUGHT WITHIN THE £100 BUDGET.

Meguiar's Ultimate Compound

We have previously used Meguiar's Ultimate Compound on a Total BMW project car and the results were superb. The paintwork was incredibly hazy and covered in swirls, but this rubbing and polishing compound removes stains, oxidation, swirl marks, bird dropping blemishes, but it also injects the shine back into the bodywork.

We applied it by machine, but it can also be done by hand.

Dodo Juice Hard Candy

It's essential to apply a protective layer once you have finished with Meguiar's Ultimate Compound. Dodo Juice has been a hit on the show scene and you will no doubt recognise the brand through previous issues of Total BMW. Produced using Carnauba and Candelilla wax, Hard Candy will leave the paintwork with a deep shine and lasting protection. Despite it costing £29.95 for just, it will last for years, even if you apply it once a month.

Dodo Juice Red Mist Tropical

Ideal for the summer months as well as recently waxed cars. Red Mist Tropical contains a slower acting solvent than the standard version so it won't dissolve the bond between the wax layer and paintwork. It uses the same ingredients as Red Mist, but it'll be easier to apply to your BMW in the summer.

It will certainly keep a BMW shiny between washes.

Bilt-Hamber Auto-Wash Car Shampoo

You may have heard of Bilt-Hamber for its rust remover products, but its Auto-Wash shampoo has also been well received. This highly concentrated solution requires just one teaspoon per bucket of water and its ability to produce high levels of foam offers a good level of lubrication. Rust inhibitors means it won't corrode bare steel either.
